

Questions for Pan

Will you meet me in a field of stone not just a field of gold will you stroke my face caress my thighs when I am dryboned and old or will your up-for-it eyes forever stray to those leggy girls so young whilst you play them your songs and they dance to your tune and I stand to the side a shadow bride with my face as pale as the moon.

not just a field of gold?
